

Join us on October 20th for a
FREE BREAKFAST SEMINAR to learn about the

New Labour Relations Secretariat
for the Broader Public Sector in Ontario

How can the government make labour relations work better in the broader public sector? A new division called the Labour Relations Secretariat has been established to consider that question in depth. Join Tim Hadwen, Assistant Deputy Minister of this new Labour Relations Secretariat and hear how the Secretariat plans to foster a more strategic approach to BPS labour-relations issues.

Tim was previously the Director of the Legal Services Branches of the Ontario Ministry of Government Services and Ministry of Labour. Before joining the government, he was General Counsel to the Ontario Public Service Employees Union, Manager of the Litigation and Membership Benefits department of the Ontario Nurses' Association, and in private practice as a partner with a prominent union-side labour law firm. Tim is co-author of the legal text on Ontario Public Service Employment and Labour Law.

Where:

Albany Room, Holiday Inn Yorkdale
3450 Dufferin Street, Toronto (just south of the 401)

When:

Wednesday, October 20, 2010
Continental Breakfast from 7:30 a.m.
One-hour Presentation begins at 8:00 a.m.

Please RSVP to cmarchese@pesceassociates.com.

Pesce & Associates reserves the right to cancel this event due to insufficient registration.